

IL LILIUM

LISA's newspaper

FROM "THE LISA TIMES" TO "IL LILIUM"

SOME CHANGES

Written by Giada Crespi

This year we thought a bit about our initiative, the "Lisa times", especially due to the change of teachers, between them also our Italian teacher, patron of this project. therefore we reviewed a bit the newspaper and decided to make some changes.

1. First of all we changed its name to "il Liliium", after some brainstorming. We didn't like the original name as much as we did in our first year so we chose another.
2. It will be mainly in English, although with translations, to join it with a newspaper project Our English conversation teacher wanted to do.

GENDER EQUALITY

Written by Sara Mazza

While there has been great progress globally in the field of gender equality and the fight against discrimination, we are still a long way from defeating all forms of social inequality.

About two-thirds of countries in developing regions have achieved gender parity in primary education, but in sub-Saharan Africa, Oceania and Western Asia, girls continue to face numerous obstacles in accessing primary and secondary education.

Gender inequalities are in fact a reality still present in the world, with 4.4 million more women than men forced to live on less than $ 1.90 a day.

Furthermore, despite the fact that women perform better in school and in the workplace, they are paid on average 23% less than their male colleagues.

In Italy, the struggle for gender equality has deep roots: following the unification of Italy and up to 1945, women, in fact, were excluded from participation in political life to be relegated only to the areas of education and family.

Every day in the world forms of abuse are consumed such as the exploitation of prostitution, arranged marriages and female genital mutilation.

The goals of Goal 5 of the 2030 Agenda aim to defeat violence and discrimination to promote a culture based on gender equality and the empowerment of all women and girls, at all levels, guaranteeing them equal access to natural resources , global economic and financial.

USING CANVA & A PDF FORMAT

Written by Sara Mazza

My idea is to use Canva, a website we can use to create a pdf completely customizable. Canva is a free website and easy to use so it fits all that we need to do.

Furthermore, by using a pdf, we'll be able to upload it easily on the old website and the reader will be able to download it and keep it.

Thanks to this we can also send the older version to those who want it and create a new pdf for each number, without having to create pages for everything.

There will also be less problems with the designing of the pages because, on the website, the letters move depending on the device one is using but, with a pdf, this (usually) doesn't happen.
